REDWOOD CITY MAN INVENTS A NEW INK

An invention which promises to materially change some branches of the printing industry and which may lead to the development of manufacturing here has been made by George Knight, a resident of Redwood City. Knight's invention makes use of an ink which will take place of the present ink in printing the various sections of some of the large papers and magazines. The ink at present used in the printer is imported from Germany, and is, therefore, expensive. It is a high content of chlorine, and the present ink is dangerous to use. In the ink which has been invented by the local man, the ink is not used, and the ink is safe to use as the ordinary printer's ink.

Knight, it is said, has secured a patent on his formula, and has secured financial backing for its manufacture from George Wingfield, Nevada capitalist. If the plans are carried out, Redwood City will be the first place to have the site of a large ink factory, manufacturing this new product.

Mary Pickford Will Show Here

When "Rosita" is shown for the first time at the Sequoia Theatre Monday and Tuesday evening, the public of this city will see an entirely new and different Mary Pickford.

In this, her latest United Artists production, she appears as a grown-up young woman.

The famous Mary Pickford curls, the golden hair, the coiffed high in Spanish style of the Nineteenth century, while Miss Pickford, wearing the gorgeous gowns with long trailing trains, appears like and shows revealing a seldom seen phase of the personality loved around the world.

"Rosita" is an entirely different story from anything Mary Pickford has ever before been identified with. Her appeal will be to the grown-ups rather than to the children, and an entirely new Mary Pickford audience will be created. Men especially, and there are a few, perhaps, who have never seen Mary Pickford on the screen will see and adore her in "Rosita."

A thrilling tale of Spanish romance is unfolded in swiftly moving scenes, glimpses of carnival and palatial splendor blended into a story of dramatic intensity interspersed with human frailties, comedy intrigue, suspense and mounted on a production of gigantic proportions abounding in melodrama and love.

As "Rosita," Mary Pickford appears in many scenes of dramatic intensity, and while she is seen in the role of an emotional actress, Miss Pickford has played many emotional scenes heretofore, therefore it will not in this sense be a new Mary—just a grown-up Mary Pickford never fully revealed until the present.

A special matinee will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30, and Mr. O'Brien urges the children to attend the matinee in order to give the parents and others a better opportunity for seats in the evening.

MASONIC CLUB SUPPER IS BIG SUCCESS

The supper given by the Masonic Club in the banquet room of the Masonic temple last Thursday evening was attended by about 150 members and was an unqualified success. A good banquet was enjoyed and was followed by a series of pictures of Lassen National Park, including pictures of Mt. Lassen in eruption, and was accompanied by an interesting lecture by Winfield Scott of the Western Pacific R. R. Co.

The pictures of Lassen were followed by a tonic rest supplied by Charles Merrill, master of the lodge. Pictures showing the transformation of water power into electricity and the various uses to which electricity is put were then shown. The reels were supplied by the P. G. & E. and were secured by Walter Kellogg, manager of this district of the company.

Between reels of pictures musical numbers were enjoyed from Otis M. Carrington, B. E. Myers and Fred Lamb. Mr. Ryan, chairman of the committee in charge of the affair, thanked those present for their attendance and announced that the committee is planning something new and different for the near future, and announced that the next supper will be for the ladies also. Henry Beeger read a telegram from Charles Merrill, who is now enroute to New York, where he is to attend a convention of credit men.

GRADUATION OF A BRIGHT SCHOLAR

Miss Leona Shine, daughter of Mrs. Charles Olsen and granddaughter of the late Thomas Shine and Mary Shine, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Twombly, pioneer families of the county, graduated from the Morland Notre Dame Academy, at Watsonville on Tuesday, June 3, 1924, with great honors.

She also secured the K. C. medal for the best composition in English, the subject being, "History of the Missions of the State of California." There were 1,000 competitors for the medal, and this reflects a great credit on the convent and the good sisters who conduct it.

Miss Shine now intends to enter the University of California, and prepare for a teaching career. She is considered one of the brightest pupils turned out of the Watsonville convent for many years. Her father is bright and no doubt she will reflect great credit upon these pioneer families.

JUNIOR COLLEGE STAGES ONE ACT HUMOROUS SKIT

By Lynette Faure

The San Mateo Junior College held its last student body assembly of the year yesterday. The Junior College has completed a very successful year in all of its activities. The Dramatic Society had charge of the assembly. They presented a one-act play, "Columbine." Columbine, a fairy-like personage, charmed her audience with her chatter and flattery, as she did her bewitching, the fantastical figures, Harlequin and Pierrot. The curiosity of humans was portrayed by the old man, Dan'l and the young boy, Nathan'l.

The lovely lawn in the rear of the Junior College made an open-air theatre, thus solving the scenery problem of the play.

Miss Price, the dramatic instructor, coached the students who took part in the play. The characters were well chosen, and the play was a successful climax to the year's work of the society. The characters were as follows: Columbine, Katherine McKee; Harlequin, Gordon Morrison; Pierrot, Robert Snyder; Dan'l, Joe Allam; Nathan'l, Dorothea Meyers.

BLACK AND YELLOW PLATES FOR NEXT YEAR

Pale yellow and black are the colors chosen for next year's automobile license plates by the Division of Motor Vehicles. Chief Will H. Marsh announces these colors will replace the green and white being used this year. He has requested adjoining states to adopt a different color scheme in order to avoid duplication.

Pale yellow or canary will form the background and letters will be in black. These colors will be used for all passenger cars and solid tired trucks.

For pneumatic tired trucks and taxicab and slip-on Fords, the colors will be red and white as now but their order will be reversed. The background being a deep red and the letters white. Orders for new plates are to be placed early to avoid delay and confusion.

Will Seek Re-Election

Senator M. B. Johnson, who represents San Mateo, Santa Clara and San Benito counties in the upper house of the California legislature, was in Redwood City Monday talking over his candidacy for re-election. Senator Johnson has been in Dallas, Texas, for the past several months settling the estate of a brother lately deceased. He returned to California to attend the marriage of his daughter, Miss Margaret Johnson, an honor graduate of this year's class at the University of California, and Charles Mallory also an honor graduate of the engineering department of the U. C. which took place in Berkeley last week.

Senator Johnson will be obliged to return to Dallas next week and will not be in San Mateo county until the campaign is practically over. He will be a candidate for re-election, however.

Mr. Johnson was rated as one of the best members of the upper house and stood for everything that was clean and progressive in State legislation. He was an honor not only to San Mateo county, but to the state at large. It is to be hoped that he will be re-elected by a large majority. Local Man May Benefit From Bill

Word was received her this week of the passage by the house of representatives of a bill to give the federal court of the Northern California District authority to adjudicate the long pending claims of the seal hunters who lost money at the seal time that the government stopped the hunting of seals in the Bering sea.

Among those who will benefit from the passage of the bill is John Ford of this city, who was employed as a seal hunter on the schooner, Sophy Sullivan in 1891 when the government put a ban on seal hunting and drove the hunters from the Bering sea. As the action of the government caused the loss of the whole year's voyage, the hunters who were paid on a piece basis filed claims against the government, and for over 25 years the matter has been postponed until this year when Senator Shortridge introduced the present bill, which will probably end the matter.

John Ford is the only remaining hunter in Redwood City who will profit by the legislation, although 30 years ago many of the young men of this district used to make voyages in the sailing ships. Among the prominent seal hunters of that time was George Littlejohn, brother of Cahse Littlejohn, who still resides here. He was lost in the winter of 1899 when his ship, the Otter, was lost off the coast of California in company with the schooners, James M. Hamilton and the Annie. Another famous hunter of that time was Charles Peterson, more familiarly known around here as Charlie Piken.

WOODSIDE NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST

Mr. and Mrs. William Lee Hatha gave a delightful picnic a short time ago for their grandchildren and a number of their little friends. The party motored down from the city and the party was held at the Hathaway country place here, the picnic luncheon being served out in the fields under the oak trees.

Mrs. Mortimer Fleishacker is visiting friends at Pasadena.

Fred H. Mighall left on Monday for a month's stay in the Santa Cruz mountains.

Dr. Bradford Leavitt and family are having their place put in shape for the summer and plan to arrive here from the south on the 18th.

When Nels Andreen closed his shop a few weeks ago, we feared that Woodside, where the anvil had rung so many times the earliest days of California history, was to be left without a representative of the smith's craft. Mrs. Leontine von Savoye has recovered from her recent illness and is about again.

With the return of our summer population the Trail Club is much in evidence again. There are some splendid horses owned in the neighborhood and with their gallant riders they make a brave show along the woodland paths.

Mr. and Mrs. George D. Squires of Woodside who were injured in an automobile accident at Los Angeles about two weeks ago, are recovering slowly but are not yet able to return to their home. Each had several ribs broken but the most serious injuries was to Mr. Squires' knee.

The oak grove of Miss Adelle Tripp has been selected as the site for the annual picnic of the Sunday School of the Congregational church of Redwood City. The time is set for Saturday of this week.

Henry Crowhurst was arrested this week for the illegal sale of liquor. Crowhurst, who conducts a laundry on Spruce street, appeared Wednesday before City Recorder Albert Mansfield and was fined $250. A second charge against Crowhurst was dismissed as the chief witness is now in custody and charged with attempted burglary.

SEQUOIA ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PLANS

At a meeting held last Tuesday night the Alumni of Sequoia formulated extensive plans for a dinner and entertainment to be given by the association in honor of the graduating class of the school. Committees are now at work in perfecting arrangements for the event which will take place on July 21 in the new high school.

For the first time the Alumni Association will have the pleasure of welcoming the sons and daughters of members of the association (into the organization, as this term four children of former Sequoia students will graduate. These are Norman Hedge, Margaret Kahlenborn, Noble Cloud and Margaret Chilcot.

The entertainment given by the association to the graduating class is an annual event in the school, and will be of more than ordinary significance this year as this will be the first class to graduate from the new school. A program is being planned and it is said that a dance will take place as the final number of the entertainment.

Tickets have been distributed to members of the association and it is urged that all will attend. If it is not possible for alumni to attend, it is the wish of the committee that they send $1.50 anyway, as the money is considerably depleted, and the association is under heavy expense.

SIMPLICITY FACTOR OF SAFETY

Motor car purchasers, careful to consider safety elements in automobile construction, are giving more and more attention all the time to cars in which the operations necessary for proper control in traffic are reduced to a minimum.

Several reasons instantly appear for this, principal of which is that the more complicated the construction or the more complex the manipulations necessary for control, the greater are the chances for trouble and even dangers in operation.

All of which brings home the fact that nothing contributes a greater element of safety in motoring than the utmost simplicity in those parts of the car upon which the control depends, thereby freeing the driver from as much exertion and distraction as possible.

A notable example of how this can be successfully carried out was found in the design and operation of the control of the Ford car which gives the driver exceptional command in traffic, in mud and sand—in fact in every place where facility of control is all important. It is a well known traffic expert after testing a Ford Coupe from the San Francisco branch yesterday.

"The short wheelbase and small turning radius insured easy turning of corners and convenience in maneuvering in and out of parking places."

"The all important brake, chief element of safety, was an outstanding feature of Ford control in the experiment. Operating through the foot pedal with but little effort, it exerted a quick grip and permitted immediate stopping of the car."

"Action of the Ford brake is simple," he commented, "for it is transmitted from the pedal directly to a drum on the driving shaft, giving the Ford owner a powerful, positive brake."

"An emergency brake, operated by a hand lever and acting on the drum of the rear wheels, also is provided. Construction of this dual brake system is of such simple and direct design that adjustment is seldom necessary and the safety factor is always of the highest."

NEW ELECTROLIERS ON SEQUOIA HIGH GROUNDS

The town of Redwood City is installing a number of new electroliers near the Sequoia Union High School grounds, and the school trustees are having the same kind of electroliers installed along the drives and walks of the school grounds.

The lights are the same as those now in use on Broadway and Main streets. Those being put in place by the city will continue the present system along Broadway from the county road to Brewster street.

NEW DAILY PAPER STARTED IN SAN MATEO

A new daily paper has made its appearance in San Mateo county this week. The new paper is the San Mateo Daily Times. The Times is conducted by Horace Amplett and has been run as a weekly for some time. The growth of business, however, has decided the publisher that a daily is needed in San Mateo. The Daily News Leader is the other paper of San Mateo and has been running for several years as a daily.

The new paper starts out as a newsy, well arranged paper and is a credit to the publisher. The space is devoted chiefly to news of San Mateo county, and outside matter is given a secondary place. The advertising carried by the Times seems to support the editor's view that San Mateo will be a good field.

OLD LANDMARK IS NOW BEING TORN DOWN

The old barn which for years has stood on the Tacoma Mill property at the foot of Main street, is this week being taken down by the Fox-McNulty Lumber Company. This barn, the last of three which once formed the main buildings of the Hansen-Ackerson Lumber Company, is one of the oldest buildings in Redwood City. It and the two others was built by the pioneer lumber company more than 45 years ago, and at that time served as a storage place for the redwood lumber which was shipped out on sea-going vessels which used to dock at a wharf which stood near where the Brewster street bridge now stands.

The two other barns were burned many years ago; burned it was said by some one who had a grudge against the company. These two stood somewhere near where the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's gas tank now stands. At this time the office of the lumber company was in the building now occupied by the Redwood Painting Company.

REDWOOD CITY A HEALTHY PLACE

The fact that Redwood City is a healthy and healthful community has been demonstrated by the fact that the Redwood City Hospital has closed its doors and after remodeling has now been reopened as a boarding house.

This is a good sign. We do not need hospitals here. The principal use of the place in the days gone by was for auto accident cases. Now that the "speed cops" are again on the job, this need has been relieved and the nurses at the local first aid station found time so heavy upon their hands that they decided to close up shop. So the new boarding house came into being.

Any community the size of Redwood City that can freeze out the hospital is a place worthy of more than passing consideration. We do hear occasionally that someone has been arrested for breaking the Volstead Act, so we must conclude that Redwood City fills the description of the old hymn which says that this is a place "Where every prospect pleases and only man is vile."

A JAPANESE BOYCOTT

Uneasiness has been manifested in some sections of the country because of the fact that prominent Japanese in the Flowery Kingdom are threatening to boycott the United States. There is not much danger that such a contingency may arise. Japan may be angry at the action taken by congress in its recent exclusion act, but there is little cause to fear any reprisal upon the part of the Nipponese.

Japan is practically dependent upon the United States for its very existence. Japan produces most of the raw silk used in this country for the silk fabrics used in every line of silk manufacture. Nearly every ship from the orient brings huge cargoes of the raw material for eastern factories. Other products, but in a smaller degree, are sold for American consumption. Very little of Japan's export trade is carried on with any country other than this. Japan cannot make a new market in a short length of time. There is no country at the present that is well able to buy its raw and manufactured materials, and it is probable that no other nation could pay the price that we are paying for these commodities.

It is therefore a pretty safe bet that Japan will not place any boycott upon American articles. Other countries have restricted Japanese immigration with out bloodshed or boycott as resulting factors. It will be the same in the present instance. If Japan tries any boycotting the U. S. could do a little of the thing on its own account and in a mighty short time, the "little brown man" would have a second thought to think.

YOUR GOOD DEED

Have you done your good deed today? Brooks says that the following is the result of a good deed:

"A little sun, a little rain,
O soft wind blowing from the West,
And woods and fields are sweet again
And warmth within the mountains breast.
A little love, a little trust,
A soft impulse, a sudden dream,
And life as dry as desert dust
Is fresher than a mountain stream."

Boy Scouts promise on their honor that they will try to do one good deed each day. We should all of us try to emulate the scouts in this worthy practice and we would soon find that life is really worth while.

FATHER'S DAY

Tomorrow is Dad's Day. Somebody started the idea and it has spread to such an extent that it will be recognized in a good part of the country. Most of us didn't realize it when we had the chance, but Dad was a mighty fine fellow. He put up with a whole lot from us, bought our clothes, shoes and entertainment, he didn't say much about it, but was just content when we were happy.

Personally we wish we had a chance to do some things over but the chance has gone. Sometime though we hope we will be able to tell him all about it. But come to think about it, he was a boy once so perhaps he knew just how we would feel some day, and so he was content.

FOREST FIRES

The San Mateo County Supervisors on Monday very wisely determined to amend the county ordinance permitting the burning of waste by milling companies which are located in this county. Fire Warden B. L. Werder reported that the forest fires that did a great amount of damage in the neighborhood of the Big Basin had their origin at certain mills in this county and because of the extremely dry weather had spread over a wide area.

Next year there can be no fires started after the first of April. This sets the date back two months. On April first there is little danger of the spread of the fire fiend. So our beautiful forests of Redwoods will have another safeguard placed around them.

We are glad of the educational propaganda that is being waged now-a-days for the preventing of fires. We hope that it will go on until every resident of the state will realize that he must be careful. Our trees are our greatest benefactors. They are the most beautiful thing we have. They are our oldest inhabitants. So we must protect them in every way.

MONTHLY REPORT OF HORTICULTURAL COMMISSIONER

One of the most progressive measures undertaken since their organization, and one which is to have a far-reaching effect on the future marketing of their produce, is the installation of an up-to-date vacuum fumigation plant by the Colma Vegetable Growers Association. The plant was erected, primarily, for the fumigation of potatoes by the use of carbon bisulphide under vacuum for the destruction of the tuber moth which usually makes its appearance about the middle of May and results in the refusal of shipments of potatoes to states which quarantine against this pest, particularly to the Northwest, which is one of our best markets. These states have signified their willingness to accept potatoes which have been fumigated hence the erection of the plant will materially aid the producers of the Colma district. The fumigator can be used well for household and other vegetables, in fact, most anything which requires treatment, and is one of the largest and most modern in existence. The Colma growers are certainly to be congratulated on the acquisition of this equipment.

Numerous inquiries for control measures for grasshoppers have been received by this office. Serious damage is being done by them in the interior valleys and a recent survey made by myself of the foothill sections of this county leads me to believe that the present complaints are only a beginning. From the numbers observed it is to be expected that when their wings are fully developed, the grasshopper will descend from the dry grass lands to the cultivated areas literally in swarms. The logical, and most effective method of control is the burning of pasture lands and stubble fields. This should be done only under proper supervision and where there is no danger of fires getting beyond control. Where it is not possible to burn, the use of poisoned bait is recommended. This can be purchased ready to use and I advise persons who wish to poison grasshoppers to get the commercial mixture as it is more thoroughly mixed and more accurately than it is possible for the individual to do, but I will gladly furnish on application, directions to those desiring to make their own bait.

Certificates have been issued, and fumigation supervised where required, for 184 shipments during the month on account of foot and mouth disease. Of these shipments $8 were carload lots of various vegetables, mostly artichokes, potatoes and peas.

The planting of nursery stock for the season is about over, there being but 200 shipments of 19,157 plants received during May. Of these 151 shipments of 16,591 plants, 10,000 of which were strawberries, were California points.

KIWANIS HEAR TALK BY STANFORD PROFESSOR

The principal speaker at the last meeting of the Kiwanis Club was Professor Almac of Stanford. The subject of the professor's address was "education" and he handled it in an interesting, entertaining manner and left much food for thought with the local business men who heard him. In the course of his talk Prof. Almac spoke of the advantages of a national system of education and of the need of the bill now in the senate for the creation of a national department of education.

The Tuesday luncheons of the local Kiwanis Club continue to attract numbers of the business men of Redwood City. The attendance record of the club is nearly 100% and the membership is growing rapidly. Phil Brand, local plumber, was chairman of the last meeting.

No More Old Style Collars

What is becoming of the old-fashioned celluloid collar? Apparently it is fast disappearing along with good bourbon, for a search of Los Angeles revealed only a half dozen of the former aristocrat of the well-dressed gentleman's wardrobe.

Harold Lloyd, portraying a small town boy in his latest feature, Pathé comedy, "Girl Shy," insisted on dressing the part, which meant that he had to have a few inflammable collars. He did find two relics he used in "Grandma's Boy," but in the middle of the making of the picture these wore out, and he had to have others.

Robert "Red" Golden, assistant director, and Roy Brooks, chief of the Lloyd wardrobe department, started on a still hunt of the trenches where the celluloid neck pieces have been making their last stand.

Their search finally turned out to be fruitless. At last, in despair, Lloyd disguised himself and joined the hunt.

When it seemed that every resource had been exhausted, and there were no more celluloid collars to be found than there are jackrabbits to be shot from the street cars of Los Angeles, a cache was located down in the Mexican quarter, which yielded six collars. They were all there was—there wasn't any more!

The Pinkerton agency was called in by Lloyd, and the collars placed under special guard for the remainder of the production.

This is only a small incident in connection with the making of "Girl Shy," which many who have had the pleasure of seeing at a previous claim is Lloyd's best so far.

But it is attention to small details like this which help make Lloyd's pictures the great successes that they all have been. In "Girl Shy" Jobyna Ralston is seen once as Harold's leading lady, while the direction was in the hands of Fred Newmeyer and Sam Taylor, from a story by Taylor, Tommy Gray, Ted Wilde and Tim Wheeler.

"Girl Shy" will be shown at the Sequoia Theatre, June 11 and 12. A special matinee will be held Thursday afternoon at 3:30.

MT. CARMEL PARISHIONERS TO HOLD FAMILY REUNION

The third annual family reunion of the parishioners of Mount Carmel church will be held this year on Sunday afternoon, June 8th at Blackberry Farm.

The Carmel Men's Club, under whose auspices the affair is being held, will be pleased if those with out other means of getting to the grounds will notify other Judge Ray Griffin, 326 Broadway, phone Redwood 63 or A. J. Stebbins, 203 Main street, phone Redwood 223 J of their desire to attend, who will furnish them with information regarding transportation.

The committee has arranged an interesting program and a gala time is assured for all.

Just turn up the wick, touch a match—and the meal is started! That's the beauty of Pearl Oil and a good oil cook-stove! No overheating, nothing to lug.

NEWS OF MENLO PARK

James Carroll, cashier of the tax collector's office in San Francisco, visited relatives here on Thursday. Mr. Carroll has handled the money of the office for many years.

Mrs. C. E. Murry of Alaska was here during the week on a visit to her father, Frederick Neesler, whom she has not seen in a number of years, or since she went to the land of the midnight sun. Her husband was in charge of the electrical department of a large mine. Mr. and Mrs. Murry are now residing in Oakland. Mr. Neesler was delighted and extremely happy in meeting his beautiful daughter.

Mrs. P. H. McGuffey and a portion of her family leave today for St. Helena to permanently reside. During her stay in Menlo Park she made many friends who regret to see her leave, but all wish her success and happiness in her new locality.

Next Saturday evening the Parent-Teacher Association of the Los Lomitas school district will give a dance in the school house. The proceeds of which will go towards a fund to pay the indebtedness incurred in buying the new moving picture machine, used for educational purposes in the school.

On June 20th bids will be opened by the trustees of the Menlo Park school district for an addition of two rooms to the present school building to cost $5,000 or more. The contract is to be awarded to the meeting so that work will be finished on Saturday, June 14, at the school opens in the fall. There will be no extra tax imposed upon the property owners of the district for this work as the trustees in their wisdom provided a fund from the regular income of the district to pay for this improvement. They are to be commended for their foresight and efficiency in the performance of their official duties.

The lamented death of Bishop William Ford Nichols of the Episcopal church in San Francisco, Thursday automatically makes the coadjutor, Bishop Edward Lambe Parsons, the regular Bishop of the San Francisco diocese. He had the right of succession as the coadjutor. The new bishop is well remembered here.
